KRUG

In this exciting and innovative departure from tradition, these bottlings offer champagne lovers a new, refreshing opportunity to break free from Champagne tradition in grand style.

Best served over ice, in cabernet-style glasses, that enhance the crisp and freshness experience. These champagnes can be personalized according to individual taste preferences with garnishes including mint leaves, cucumber slices, lime wedges or white grapefruit zest, a thin slice of ginger or red summer fruits such as strawberries or raspberries. Bell Peppers go particularly well with Veuve's Offering.

The higher than normal dosage (sugar) enables these wines to maintain and even enhance their flavour profile when a small amount of dilution occurs from the addition of ice.

Patrón (Spanish for “the good boss”) is the brainchild of two entrepreneurs, John Paul DeJoria and Martin Crowley, whose love of tequila and desire to create the best tequila in the world led them to a factory high in the mountains of Jalisco, Mexico, producing an extraordinary spirit. A few changes later, Patrón tequila, now the world’s top-selling ultra-premium tequila, was ready for market.

That factory, in the small town of Atotonilco, is now a new multimillion-dollar facility and guest hacienda where 700 employees create by hand the tequila that goes into every bottle. And The Patrón Spirits Company, headquartered in Las Vegas, now imports and markets a portfolio of the fine top-quality spirits, including its signature Patrón tequila line.

Patrón’s success is due in no small part to its founders’ hunch early on that consumers were ready for an ultra-premium tequila. In the short time since it was introduced, Patrón has outsold all other ultra-premium tequilas in the world combined.

Patron Tequila, like the great wines and cognacs of the world, is exceptional for a reason. It begins with the finest growing region in Mexico. Patron tequilas are the only tequilas truly produced in the traditional handmade fashion. After harvest the ‘pina’ are carefully selected, trimmed and then slowly steam baked. When cooked to perfection the ‘pina’ is macerated with large, natural, stone-milling wheels. When properly aged the tequila is fine filtered and ready for careful hand bottling. Each bottle is individually signed and given a unique bottle number due to the limited number produced.

Benedictine Cellar master at the Abbey of Hautvillers in the late 17th century, Dom Perignon is regarded as the father of champagne. And Dom Perignon the wine is certainly the father of all prestige cuvees. In the early 20th Century Moët Directors were convinced into relaunching the marque, Dom Perignon. It was designed as a luxury wine for export markets. The first shipment arrived in London in 1935 to resounding success despite the economic slump. To this day Dom Perignon has stayed true to its original principles.

Dom Perignon is always a Vintage only declared on exceptional years and is always a blend of Chardonnay and Pinot Noir Grapes.

Committed to time, Dom Perignon is always subjected to slow maturation enabling it to transform in stages. Dom Perignons uniqueness lies in the way it evolves in leaps. The wine goes through 3 windows of transition brought on by its subtle metamorphosis. These windows of expression are known as Plenitudes and are unique to Dom Perignon. These cycles of approximately 8 to 10 years develop and transform further characteristics. The First Plenitude brings Harmony, The second brings energy to the wine and the third complexity.
